Letter from the Editor

What a great year we're having. A new club meeting location, lot's of guests and visitors. Florida State Fair, Woodworking shows and who knows what else. What's missing? Your involvement. It is widely known that our club has a lot of great talent, wisdom and craftsmanship. What better place to share this then here at the main club meetings on Thursday nights. You all have many skills and talents and some of us younger folk are dying know what you know. We ant to see you in action. Take a few minutes and figure out what you might like to present to us during our presentation time. Is it a turning skill, furniture making, scroll work, carpentry, veneer pressing, boxmaking, pen turning or something else?

We so desperately want to know how to do what you do. You have a gift. Why not share it? It's easy and if you need help preparing, we are more than happy to assist you in that way.

So decide now, and get with John to let him know what you would like to do. We all thank you so much for sharing your talent with us. See ya at the Meet!
